What is Fairness

Fairness Means Treating Everyone Equally and Justly

DEFINITION

> Fairness is about giving everyone the same opportunities and being honest in our actions. It ensures that everyone is treated with respect and justice.

KEY CONCEPTS

Equality

Everyone should have the same rights and chances, regardless of differences.

Justice

Making decisions that are right and fair, without favoritism.

Impartiality

Being neutral and not letting personal feelings affect decisions.

Respect

Valuing others' opinions and treating them with dignity.

Sharing

Dividing resources or opportunities so everyone benefits equally.

EXAMPLES

→ Taking turns in a game so everyone gets a chance to play.

→ Dividing snacks equally among friends during lunch.

→ Listening to everyone's ideas in a group project.

MEMORY TIPS

★ Remember 'Fair is Fun' to connect fairness with enjoyment.

★ Use the acronym E.J.I.R. - Equality, Justice, Impartiality, Respect.

★ Think of a balanced scale to visualize fairness.

COMMON MISTAKES

✗ Assuming fairness means everyone gets the same thing, instead of what they need.

✗ Ignoring others' feelings when making decisions.

✗ Confusing fairness with favoritism or bias.

QUICK RECAP

Fairness is about treating everyone equally and justly, ensuring respect and justice in our actions. Remember to share, listen, and be impartial to create a fair environment.
