Beginner lessons for Blush

Master the Art of Blush for a Flawless Glow!

DEFINITION

> Blush adds color to your cheeks, enhancing your natural beauty. It's essential for creating a healthy, radiant look.

KEY CONCEPTS

Types of Blush

Blush comes in various forms, including powder, cream, and liquid, each offering different finishes.

Color Selection

Choose a blush shade that complements your skin tone for the best effect.

Application Techniques

Apply blush on the apples of your cheeks and blend outward for a natural look.

Tools for Application

Use brushes, sponges, or fingers based on the blush type to achieve the desired finish.

Layering

Start with a light application and build up the color gradually to avoid overdoing it.

EXAMPLES

→ Use a fluffy brush for powder blush application.

→ Dab cream blush on with fingers for a dewy finish.

→ Choose a peach blush for warm skin tones.

MEMORY TIPS

★ Remember 'Apples and Cheeks' for placement.

★ Think 'Light to Dark' for layering blush.

★ Use 'Brush, Blend, Build' to recall the application process.

COMMON MISTAKES

✗ Applying too much blush at once.

✗ Choosing the wrong shade for your skin tone.

✗ Neglecting to blend properly for a seamless look.

QUICK RECAP

Blush enhances your complexion and adds a healthy glow. Focus on choosing the right shade, applying it correctly, and blending well for a natural finish.
